INFLUENZA

can cause disruption in the workplace, e.g., absenteeism or impaired employee performance from the illness

THE FLU

is highly contagious and tends to occur in epidemics (i.e. spreads rapidly), and by protecting yourself and also keep your family safe from illness

FLU VACCINES

Flu vaccines are given on a voluntary basis to staff

VACCINATIONS

are required annually to ensure protection and should be given prior to the winter months in April/May/June to provide effective cover for the risk period.
